

BENEFITS TO NACA MEMBERSHIP

- Support for the professional administration of county government
- Networking for county government executives and administrators online and at NACA Idea Exchanges, meetings, and educational sessions at the:
 - NACo Legislative Conference
 - NACo Annual Conference
 - ICMA Annual Conference
- Participation in ICMA's professional development and training on issues such as leadership, management, ethics, performance measurement, and next generation programs
- NACA Scholarships:
 - The Tom Lundy Scholarship for the ICMA Annual Conference
 - ICMA Emerging Professionals Leadership Institutes and ICMA Regional Summits
- Four issues of NACA's publication, The Journal of County Administration
- Monthly news updates via email
- Inclusion to the NACA peer network of professional county administrators
- Access to NACA's Online Membership Directory
- Professional recognition
- Other online resources at www.countyadministrators.org

For more information, including current membership dues, please visit our website or contact us

www.countyadministrators.org

NACA c/o ICMA

777 North Capitol Street, NE
Suite 500
Washington, DC 20002-4201

NACA@icma.org

@NACAICMA

@NACA_ICMA

NACA

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COUNTY ADMINISTRATORS

CONNECTING

county professionals across the nation.

ADVANCING

the profession.

PROMOTING

the council-manager form of government.

NACA

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COUNTY ADMINISTRATORS

ADVANCING AND ENCOURAGING
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT FOR COUNTY ADMINISTRATORS AND STRIVING TO IMPROVE THE PROFESSIONAL
MANAGEMENT OF COUNTY GOVERNMENT

www.countyadministrators.org

ABOUT NACA

NACA is the professional association of county administrators nationwide. Its objectives are to advance and encourage the professional development and excellence of county administrators and to improve the management of county government. NACA also supports the objectives and goals of its affiliate organizations, the International City/County Management Association (ICMA) and the National Association of Counties (NACo).

WHY JOIN NACA?

As a NACA member, you gain opportunities to learn from and share information with a national network of professionals who are dedicated to high-performing county government. NACA provides forums to exchange leading practices and obtain resources addressing county governance and management challenges. Members can also access resources from NACA's private sector partners for needs such as hiring, purchasing practices, and retirement planning.

WHO BELONGS TO NACA?

NACA members are chief administrative officers, their deputies and assistants, and other professionals in charge of overseeing the day-to-day operations of county government. NACA members serve the county's legislative body by carrying out the policies and procedures established by its members. Members also represent the private sector, academia, and others interested in county governance.

MEMBERSHIP CATEGORIES

Block State Members:

State-based associations of county managers and administrators qualify for block membership in NACA when all of the state association's members join NACA as corporate, associate, or honorary members. State associations shall be eligible for a dues discount.

Corporate Members:

A county administrator, who is defined as that individual and/or their assistant(s) and staff, regardless of title, who is directly responsible to the governing body or elected chief executive and whose official duties are primarily devoted to the general management or administration of county activities.

Associate Members:

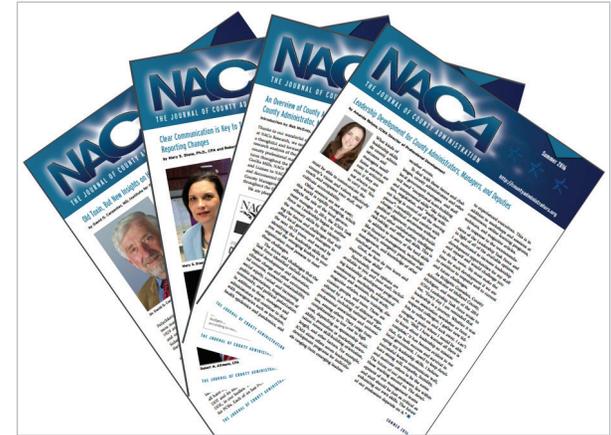

Any person, not eligible to be a corporate member, having professional interest in the objectives and programs of NACA may become an associate member.

Honorary Members:

Any person who has rendered distinguished service to the cause of better county government shall be eligible for honorary membership.

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COUNTY ADMINISTRATORS

NACA in an affiliate of the International City/County Management Association (ICMA) and the National Association of Counties (NACo)

